

Vega Foods Supports Sports

By Kenneth Yankah

UNIQUE STAR Foods Limited, producers of Vega Foods has guaranteed its support for the growth of lesser-known sports in the country as part of its social responsibilities.

Mr Dipti Prassana Mohanty, Country Manager of the company yesterday explained to the media his outfit's plans for the future, and mentioned the development of sports, especially the lesser developed ones, as one of their major objectives.

"Sports and education development are our major objectives in our social responsibility plan."

Unique Star associates itself with the Ghana Olympic Committee (GOC), sponsoring this year's Olympic Day Run.

"Plans are far advanced with negotiations to support Ghana CAN 2008," Mr Mohanty said, adding that his outfit also supported the last FIFA World Cup which Ghana participated in and got to the second round.

The company supported the Otumfuo Educational Fund and also donated 10,000 books to under-privileged children in some selected schools as well as supported this year's Farmers Day.

The Country Director also hinted that his outfit had been in preliminary discussions with GOC towards constructing an Olympic size sports complex to confirm their support for the promotion of sports in the country.

Mr Mohanty commended the government for its support towards their operations in the country over the past year.

Unique Star Food, dealers in beverages and other food products such as edible oils and fats, seasonings, canned fishes, meat and vegetables, sauces, snacks, bakery products and cuisines, operates in more than 60 countries globally.

The country manager observed that the company came into existence in the year 2006 and it hoped to make a meaningful impact in the country as from next year.
